Pinot's promise, and peril, on the Sonoma Coast

2010 Pinot Noir, Sonoma Coast

($24, 13.5%):

“Tapping into the eastern Sonoma interpretation of Sonoma Coast, Schug turned out a blend from noteworthy vineyards (Sangiaco, Stage Gulch and so on) that functions as the sort of solid weeknight bottle too rare these days. Rooty and mint-edged, with ripe strawberry and a sarsaparilla edge that offers up-front pleasure.”
